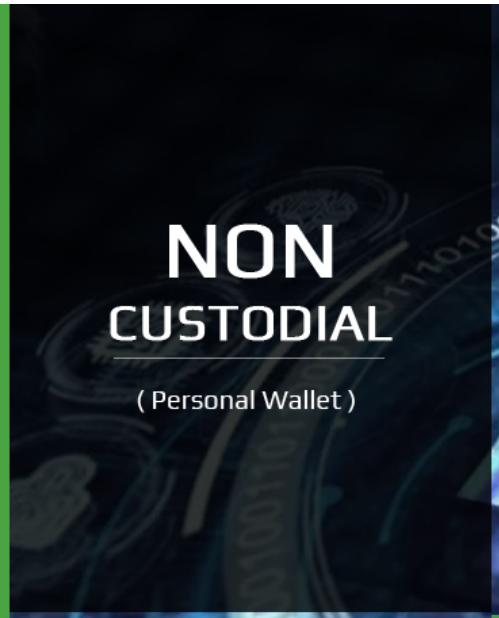
What is DeFi?

DeFi is a decentralized finance (or open finance) in which institutions, markets or financial instruments are managed decentralized. That means everyone can access and use it anywhere, anytime without being controlled by any centralized individual or organization.

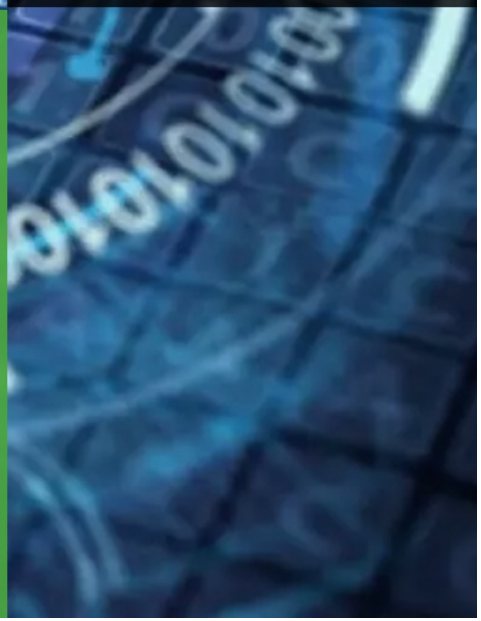
Main features

NO need to trust the intermediary.
(Replace with Smart Contract)



DECENTRALIZED

Permissionless



DECENTRALIZED FINANCE (DEFI)

In DeFi, there are also operations similar to CeFi. They can be savings, loans, borrowings, transactions, transfer orders, debts, bill payments, etc. And instead of being processed through an intermediary 3rd party, the That activity takes place on the blockchain's Smart contract.

PRODUCTS / SERVICES OF DEFI

- Saving
- Lending/Borrowing
- Swap
- Transfers, payments...
- StableCoin, DeFi Coin
- Game

SWAP TOKEN

Swap is a method of exchanging 1 coin/token to another coin/token

This activity, if performed on the DeFi exchange platform (DEX) will be recorded on the Blockchain system.

LIQUIDITY POOL

- A liquidity pool is a collection of funds locked in a smart contract.
- Liquidity pools are used to facilitate decentralized transactions, lending and many other functions
- Each DEX has its own liquidity pool.

ADVANTAGES OF DEX

Regardless of the 3rd party, users who link the exchange with their own personal crypto wallet should have 100% control of their assets.

Diverse Coin/Token, easier to list.

Transactions are completely anonymous.

High transaction security.

Low transaction fees.
